

The Adventures of Philadelphia Stinkbug

By Violet Church

Hello, everybody! I am Philadelphia stinkbug, and I live in a plastic container filled with dirt, rocks and lots of plants. I eat lots of apples.

My first partner was Celia Stinkbug. We had so much fun together but then there was an earthquake. It covered me and Celia, but then some giant thingymabobber (my owner) came and saved me. We never found Celia, but anyway, my new partner was so annoying. His name was John E. Stink E. He was stinky in more than one way. More and more stinkbugs came. She made so many friends. Almost everybody had been friends with her except for John E.

One day she found that the top was off. She climbed out and found a crack in the wall big enough for her to go through. When she got outside, she spent a little over an hour out side. She explored a little bit, too, but then she realized that her owner fed and made sure she had plenty of water. She knew that her owner loved her. She flew as fast as she could to get back to the house. She climbed back thru the hole and found that the top was closed. She waited and waited till finally her owner came and put her back in. She lived happily ever after in that little plastic container.

The End
