

Booklovers in Adams County can join readers from 16,000 public libraries and colleges across the United States enjoying this year's Together We Read: US digital book club selection. From March 1 to 15, Adams County Library patrons can read award-winning Mexican-American and Indigenous author Jennifer Givhan's book, River Woman, River Demon, as an e-book and audiobook for free. Join thousands of other readers by using the Libby app to download the book, available at <https://wplc.overdrive.com/>. All it takes is a valid Adams County Library card.

River Woman, River Demon tells the story of Eva Santos Moon, a burgeoning Chicana artist who practices the ancient, spiritual ways of brujería and curanderisma. She's at one of her lowest points—suffering from disorienting blackouts, creative stagnation, and a feeling of disconnect from her magical roots. When her husband is taken into custody for the shocking murder of their friend, Eva doesn't know whom to trust—least of all, herself. She soon falls under suspicion as a potential suspect, and her past rises to the surface, dredging up the truth about an eerily similar death from her childhood. Struggling with fragmented memories and self-doubt, an increasingly terrified Eva fears that she might have been involved in both murders. As she fights to keep her family out of danger, Eva realizes she must use her magick as a bruja to protect herself and her loved ones, while confronting her own dark history.